THE FIRST BLOOD DRAWN.

COLLISION OF DEPUTIES AND THE STRIKING MINERS.

Attempting to Push by the Sheriff and His Posse One of the Strikers is Hurt.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 13.—The striking miners started on their march to Plum Creek, the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas and Coal Company, at five o'clock this morning. They were met in the road by Sheriff Lowery and a posse of deputies who forbid them to go any further. Uriah Bellingham, the leader of the strikers, attempted to push his way by the posse, when a scuffle ensued, in which James Mott, a member of the band, was cut seriously over the eye by Harry Steward, one of the deputies. This is the first bloodshed of the strike.

STOLE A MARCH ON DEPUTIES.

Crowd of Strikers Give Guards the Slip—Finally Dispersed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 13.—Bodies of marchers started from Oak Hill and Spring Hill this morning in defiance of the injunction but nothing has been heard from them. About two o'clock this morning some of the deputies doing duty at Plum Creek mines were called from Center School House to disperse a crowd of Hungarians. Mary Haas went to the camp and aroused seventy-five Hungarians to the point of accompanying her to the houses of the coal company to do missionary work among the miners.

The crowd got a good start before news of the movement was conveyed to the deputies at De Armit's. After much chasing the deputies overtook the crowd and dispersed it.

NO ANARCHISTS NEED APPLY.

Immigration Commissioner Closes
Gates Against the Reds.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—Immigration Commissioner Powderly has proposed to prevent all anarchists from landing in the United States. He will prevent the landing at New York of the well known reds who were driven from France, Spain and Italy by the concerted action of the Continental powers. Planos, the leader of the Spanish anarchists, who was conducted to Havre by French officials, and shipped to New York, will be the first case.

The immigration officials at all seaboard points have been notified to watch for anarchists headed this way and not to allow them to land.

THE RED FLAG RAMPANT.

Three Anarchists Arrested in Milan
And Important Paper Found.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MILAN, Aug. 13.—Three anarchists were arrested here today. A number of documents and bombs were found in their possession and seized. Among the papers found were letters from Caserio, the murderer of President Carnot, and Acciarito, the anarchist who attempted to kill King Humbert.

A panic has resulted from these arrests and has spread to Rome and other cities.

The police are alleging that they found evidence of an international plot of anarchists to kill the heads of governments and other prominent personages.

PUDDLERS RETURN TO WORK.

The Amalgamated Association Men Withdraw.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

McKEESPORT, Pa., Aug. 13.—The striking puddlers of the National rolling mill here voted to return to work this morning. Sixty-seven voted for and sixty-two against returning to work. Those puddlers who were members of the Amalgamated Association of iron and steel workers, left the hall when the result of the vote was announced. The rest of the men will probably return to work next Monday.

FEDERAL REUNION.

Basket Picnic--Soldiers Return--Sunday School Excursion to Raleigh.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Aug. 13.—A Federal reunion and basket picnic will be held at Old Salem church, one mile from town on August 26th. Excellent speakers will entertain the crowd and the day will hold all the pleasure that eloquence, patriotism, a genial crowd and delightful lunch can crowd into it.
The old soldiers and public generally are cordially invited to attend. An effort will be made to form a Federal Camp for Rockingham county on this occasion.

Main Springs Methodist Sunday School will run an excursion to Raleigh on the 24th inst. A whole train load of folks are going and a merry time is expected.

Our two military companies returned from Piedmont Springs where they spent ten days in encampment, mingling the arts of war with the joys of peace.

Not one township in this county voted for schools. Two cast more votes for than against, but did not secure a majority of the registered voters.

The tobacco crop is the best grown in this section for five years and the farmers are jubilant. The weather has been all that could be desired.

Wife Murderer Pays the Forfeit.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13.—Peter Meen-ahan, aged seventy-five years, was hanged at 9:56 this morning for the murder of his wife. The crime was committed in this city May 25. Meen-ahan crushed his wife's skull with an axe.

PEACE UNION TO HOLD SESSION.

Letter From President Commending
Its Work--Notable Men Participate.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

MYSTIC, Conn., Aug. 14.—The Universal Peace Union Branch will begin its thirty-first annual meeting Wednesday morning, August the twenty-fifth, instead of the date heretofore published.
It will hold its sessions at the new Peace Temple in the grove of the Union, on the banks of the Mystic river.
The meeting will last four days and there will be a national mass convention that will be attended by many thousands.

The President has sent a letter warmly approving of the work of the Union.
Among the speakers will be such notable men and women as Bishop William B. Danick, Judge Ashman, Rev.

Frost Graves, James H. Earl, Lucius True Ames, Rev. James P. Stoddard, Hamilton Wilcox; President of the American Branch, Alfred H. Love of Philadelphia will preside.

TRAIN WRECKERS IN TEXAS.

A Train Derailed, Killing One and Injuring Others.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 13.—The northbound Missouri, Kansas and Texas train was wrecked this morning near Caddo Mills, Texas; the wreck was caused by the removal of fish-plates and bending the rails by unknown parties.

Every car but one rear sleeper was turned over. The Express messenger, Rawlins, was instantly killed. Several passengers were injured but how seriously is not yet known. The injured will be taken to Greenville immediately. A wrecking crew has reached the scene.

Another Actor in the Farce.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

ROME, Italy, Aug. 13.—A Fresh actor has taken a part in the Prince Henry d' Orleans farce. The latest addition is Prince Victor, Count of Turin, nephew of King Humbert, who has secretly left Italy for the purpose of challenging Prince Henry.

John W. Drummond, Jr., of the Drummond Tobacco Company, St.
Louis, was registered at the Benbow last night.

DIVINE LAW COMMANDS US.

"BEAR YE ONE ANOTHER'S BUR-DENS" THE THEME.

We Are Dependent Upon Each Other
--No Man Liveth Unto Himself--Able Discourse.

Mr. Lee took his text last night from Gallatians 6:2, and preached on bearing one another's burdens. The evangelist stated that we are commanded by the Divine law to seek not only our salvation, but the salvation of our fellow men. We must not live in this world indifferent to the sorrows of our fellows.

Society is so constructed as to make us all more or less inter-dependent upon each other, and we need the mutual sympathy and harmonious co-operation of each member to realize perfect happiness. The great example of Christ was to teach men how to live more than how to die--how to become happy by making others happy.

Bearing one another's burdens means to feel the sorrows and troubles of others as if they were our own; to place our shoulder under the burden of one who is loaded down and help him up toward God and lift him up toward heaven. It means to so act toward each other as to make life's cares and trials easier for our fellowman.

As we are all subject to the same troubles and temptations, let us express more genuine sympathy for each other and extend to one another more willingly the helping hand. Let us pray for each other more; criticize less.

Let us help men while they live. Do not wait until your friends die to express your love for them. How many keep their kind words and deeds until it is too late! Speak your kind and cheerful words now, and instead of putting so many flowers on the coffins and graves of friends, send a few to their homes to brighten their lives and cheer their hearts while they are on a bed of sickness. Oh, for more practical assistance for the struggling brother while living and less crocodile tears and hollow eulogies after he is dead.

When a man is discouraged cheer him. Cheer the tempted and struggling brother who is striving for victory over appetite; cheer each other to greater devotion and fidelity and sacrifice for the cause of God. The man who helps others to win the battles of life is the true hero; he who assists the weak to conquer temptation is most worthy of honor; and he who best serves his fellow-man by elevating him to a higher plane, he who ministers to the sick, helps the needy and lifts up the cast down--he it is for whom angels shall come on swiftest wing and carry home to prepared mansions.

The discourse was listened to with deep interest by the large crowd present.

Tonight the last service of the meeting will be held. Mr. Lee will preach a short sermon, and short talks will be made by the pastors who have assisted him, and others.

Inventor of the Lucifer Match Dead.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Sir Isaac Holden, aged 91, the inventor of the Lucifer match, died at his home at Oak-worth House, Keighley Yorkshire, today.

THE CHILD PREACHER.

She Draws a Large Crowd and Speaks
With Power.

Clarette Nora Avery, the young colored girl preacher, of whom mention was made in yesterday's TELEGRAM, preached to a large audience at Bethel church, Maple street, last night. "The New Birth" was her subject, her text being: "Ye must be born again." She handled the subject with the ease and grace of a master, preaching with great power.

Quite a number of white people were out to hear her and they were amazed at the wonderful knowledge of the Bible displayed by the child.

There is something most wonderful about this child. To those who hear her there can be no doubt of the fact that she is endowed with something stronger and higher than any human power.

She was born in Washington City eleven years ago, and has been preaching for the last four years. She was converted to Christ when only eighteen months old and says she was conscious of the fact at the time.

Arrangements are being made by Pastor Jordan to have her preach one night in the court house to white people exclusively. The time will be announced later.

THE BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

The Fourth Session of the Institute
Now in Progress.

The fourth session of the Biblical Institute is now being held at New Garden meeting house, Guilford College, and will probably continue until the 20th inst.

We learn that the Institute is being well attended and much interest is being taken in it by Christian workers.
A goodly number from Greensboro are in attendance. Among those who went out this morning we noticed Walter W. Mendenhall, Mrs. M. B.
Petty, Rev. J. Walter Malone, J. A.
Hodgin and Mrs. J. B. Field.

Quite a number of prominent friends are taking an active part in the exercises, among whom are the following: Amos Kenworthy, William P. Pinkham, J. Walter Malone, Mead A. Kelsey, John W. Woody, Mary C. Woody, Lydia Blair, Joseph Potts, Albert Peele, James R. Jones and David E.
Sampson.

The people of Guilford College are entertaining the visitors handsomely.

The Tournament Over.

The colored firemen came back from Winston this morning.

Our boys won no prizes but captured two of the offices. J. H. Edwell was elected treasurer and D. E. Lovett statistician.

Winston won the steamer contest,
the Greensboro boys not entering.
Henderson carried off the championship belt.

The tournament will be held next year in Charlotte.

Whitsett Opened Well.

The twenty-seventh term of Whitsett Institute opened last week. We learn that students are registered from twelve counties and three states, and that additions to the student body are arriving daily.

We are glad to note that the outlook is good for one of the most successful years in the history of this honored institution.

Broke Down.

The Southern's excursion to Asheville passed here on its return at 2:30 this morning. The train was delayed some time at Jamestown on account of the engine breaking down. An extra engine was sent up from here to take the crowd on.

All on board expressed themselves as having had a pleasant trip. Traveling Passenger Agent Vernon looked after the comfort of the crowd admirably.

J. M. Miliken and family returned to their home at Asheboro this morning.

MORE JUDICIAL USURPATION.

Our Pittsburg dispatches of yesterday conveyed information of the most outrageous abuse of judicial power that the annals of American history can show. There has been a more or less progressive tendency of the Federal judiciary, for the last few years, to extend the scope of their power by means of the process of injunction. The American people were at first disposed to ignore these isolated cases of usurpation or treat them as a joke; the matter has passed the joking stage.

Little attention was paid by the people or press to the injunction restraining Eugene V. Debs from interfering with the West Virginia mines; it was undoubtedly a stretch of judicial power but the public were inclined to pass that by and feel rather grateful for anything that would shut up Mr. Debs for a while. But this is a very different matter. It is a direct attempt at coercion that it would be difficult to parallel, outside of Russia. A judge presumes to forbid the sale of meat to hundreds of American citizens because they have exercised the undoubted prerogative of quitting work. If he can forbid a butcher to sell meat to a miner, why not forbid the miner buying of the butcher? Why not forbid sympathizers sending to the miner the money to be used in the purchase? We shall hear next of a Federal judge enjoining some man from sympathizing with the strikers.

There is a very great difference between the striker who goes peacefully to exchange good American dollars for meat to sustain his life, and the howling rioter who stops trains, fires at workers and destroys the property of his former employer. The one is a breaker of law; the other is exercising that privilege which no law, no constitution and no judicial puppet can rightfully wrest from any man. When the striker interferes with the rights of others no favors should be shown him; but such outrageous interference with his rights should not be tolerated by a free people.

It is not at all a question of whether the strike is wise or foolish; it is not even a question as to whether it is legally right—starvation is a method of repressive persuasion new to American jurisprudence.

It is just such perversions of power as this that breed violence and disorder; it is such travesties of justice that make the striker believe that, for him, there is no justice; it is an instance which, if followed as a precedent, would insidiously transform the Republic into a judicial oligarchy. It requires no great wisdom to see that this will give a new impetus to the forces of lawlessness and unrest. The anarchist, the socialist, the agitator of every kind, will use that decision to give color to his harangue. And the citizen will be dumb before him, for he can not deny the bald tyranny of it.

There were not lacking signs that this strike would have been settled more satisfactorily than any one has been for years. Both parties to it have shown greater reasonableness than usual; the strikers have been less violent, the operators have been more conciliatory; it was not unreasonable to hope that out of it would grow some more rational method of settling labor troubles, a better understanding between employer and employee. Conservative men of every class will deprecate and condemn this uncalled-for and impolitic interference of a self-important judge.

PRINCE Henri of Orleans and General Albertone are determined to fight that duel at all hazards. What a terrible thing is outraged honor! The Prince reported that the Italian army turned tail and sprinted for it when they met the Abyssinians; everybody knew it to be true but the entire Italian brigade has challenged him. It is so much easier to fight one little prince than a whole army of big, black Abyssinians. If a few of those punctilious foreigners who are always having affairs of honor would get hold of a good, live American cow-boy there would be a falling off in the sale of duelling pistols thereafter.

IT WOULD be rather interesting to know how it was that a city of fifteen thousand people could not keep seventy-five men from lynching a negro, if the citizens were so anxious to save the county from disgrace. Asheville is reported to feel the odium of that lynching very keenly. She will probably allow outsiders a pinch of skepticism on that head.

IT IS said that the Populists in their State convention in Ohio raised three times three "cheers" several times over—and brought them down on one another's heads. The Populist brother was always something of an enthusiast.

THE doctors say that Mrs. Ferris, who was about to marry healer Schlatter, but now claims she was hypnotized by him, is crazy. Probably Mrs. Ferris only has wheels in her head.

DOTS FROM EDITORIAL QUILLS.

The wheat shortage in Europe this year is estimated at 223,000,000 bushels. That's the shortage that we expect to yank some prosperity out of.—Wilmington Star.

The theory that crime is due to the weather is plausible; but is noticed that the crime of lynching is least frequent in the States the executives of which have the stiffest spinal columns.—Philadelphia Record.

They now say that fusion won't go at all. It takes twice as much money to run two parties as it does to run one. With fusion the people have to maintain the leaders of both parties. They have discovered that they won't do at all, and some go so far as to say that fusion shall not work again. It may be a good thing, but it comes too high. It is too much sugar for a cent.—Davidson Dispatch.

Judge Simonton, of the United States Court, at Charleston, S. C., has decided that an "original package" under the South Carolina dispensary law is the form in which the liquor is delivered to the initial carrier at the point of shipment. Under this ruling the dispensary law itself is far from being an original package, as the courts have been constantly ripping it open at each end to sample its contents ever since it was put up.—Durham Sun.

Brother Shook is the only living man that can peer down the corridors of the dim vista of the subsequent, squint through the keyhole of the front door of the future and read what the fates have in store for the truly good. Hence it is fortunate that he is willing to tear away the meshes that envelop the coming day and tell the President that the breakers of November, 1900, will be very, very cold. Mr. McKinley would best listen to the Prophet of Clyde.—Asheville Citizen.

GATHERING AT RED SPRINGS.

DEEP SYMPATHY EXPRESSED FOR MR. TOLAR.

Five Thousand People Present Yesterday—Our Own R. W. Brooks Gets the Ear of the Throng.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

RED SPRINGS, Aug. 12.—The deepest gloom has been thrown over the Chataqua by the appalling death of Mrs. Tolar and her little daughter. Great sympathy is expressed for the grief-stricken father and husband. The little girl got her foot fastened in the rail and the mother sacrificed her life in the attempt to save her child.

Fully 5,000 people were present at the Chataqua yesterday and great interest and enthusiasm are felt in its work.

Discussions have been unusually fine and the subjects practical. Mr. R. W. Brooks, of Greensboro, made a capital speech and captivated the audience.

Last night Rev. H. R. Mosely, of Florence, S. C., gave an exceedingly interesting lecture on Mexico. He was a missionary to that country for a number of years and knows the life and people of our Southern sister intimately.

Large as the attendance was yesterday considerable increase both in attendance and interest, is expected today.

It is not easy for one who has not attended the chataqua to understand the work it is doing, and it is destined to do even more largely in the future.

A GYMNASIUM NEEDED.

Greensboro Should by All Means Have Such an Institution.

We have talked with several of our prominent business men and have found them all in favor of providing and equipping a gymnasium for Greensboro. The time has passed when the gymnasium is regarded as being suitable only for the college youth. The professional and business man, the men of all classes who lead a sedentary life, have come to recognize the great benefit of a place where an hour of health-giving exercise can be had; where the worry of the mind can be thrown off and the body toned up, after the relaxation of hours at the desk or behind the counter.

It requires small argument to convince the average man at this day that exercise is beneficial and necessary; the number of men who ride a wheel is proof of this. But there are five or six months of the year in which the wheel is not an available form of exercise; there are many men who do not use a wheel for various reasons who would use a gymnasium. Good lungs and strong limbs are adjuncts to a clear head that men are not likely to despise.

Whatever fault may have been apparent in latter day athletics, it cannot be laid at the door of the gymnasium. The ordinary man, in his every day life, has the same need of it that the candidate for the foot-ball team or the boat crew has. In almost every city the size of Greensboro can be found men enough who would appreciate a gymnasium to equip and support one if some one would take the initiative. There are few men who do not, in the course of a year, spend more for medicines and doctor's bills than his gymnasium fee would be, not to mention the discomfort and loss of time from business.

We know of towns with half our population that have good gymnasia and nothing could induce the frequenters to dispense with it. The fact that there has been a gymnasium here at one time should not be taken as an indication that one would not be appreciated and supported now. The organization that controlled the former gymnasium was unfortunately allowed to disintegrate and of course the gymnasium went down with it. The zeal with which our citizens have taken hold of the new Commercial Club shows they are not disposed to lag in whatever would make for the betterment of the city. We do not believe it an exaggeration to say that a hundred men can easily be found who could be easily enlisted for the enterprise.

Petition to the Board.

There has been a numerously signed petition to the Board circulated in regard to cutting down the hill on South Elm street, south of the railroad at intersection of Lee street. This would be a great help as the dirt could be used to grade East and West Lee street, as well as to fill in the bottom of the hill and Bragg street. As it is now in the event of a fire it would be hard pulling in bad weather.

Still Another.

The excursion fever appears to be at its height. Yesterday a train carrying six cars freighted with humanity passed through. The excursion was run from Statesville and Salisbury to Wilmington, and from the size of the crowd the management will not lose any money on the trip.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Some Truth Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

The cry for comfort is the deepest cry of the human soul.—Rev. J. W. Ridde, Baptist, Philadelphia.

Man's Kingliest Crown.

The kingliest crown man may wear is jeweled with sweat drops of faithful and honest toil.—Rev. Luther Wilson, Methodist, Washington.

We Worked For Them.

Our present ideals of freedom and human rights are not the work of a day, but the result of long experiment and trial.—Rev. Celia Parker Woolley, Independent, Chicago.

A Perfect Marriage.

In the marriage of Adam and Eve we learn the lesson of the perfect equality which should exist between husband and wife.—Rev. Dr. Farrand, Presbyterian, San Francisco.

The Devil Preferred.

Between Calvin's God and the devil I believe I would rather take the devil, and between his heaven and hell I'd go to hell every time.—Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., Evangelist, New York.

Nothing Is Lost.

The good or evil you appropriate out of this strange conglomeration of things here below will be your good or evil, your happiness or unhappiness for time and eternity.—Rev. Elwood Worcester, Episcopal, Philadelphia.

Home Influences Are Lasting.

The children of Christian homes do not maintain a less noble character than those in other surroundings. The facts are all against the idea. Philosophy is against it. As the twig is bent the tree is inclined.—Rev. Henry E. Mott, Presbyterian, Buffalo.

A Missing Sense.

The man who is not conscious of having committed any sin for which he needs pardon is like the man who can hold his hand in a hot flame and feel no pain, though the flesh is being burned from the bones.—Rev. W. A. Gardner, Christian, San Francisco.

The Pursuit of Wisdom.

Wisdom is not to be reached, but to be aspired to. It is not far off, in some other country. It is that which gladdens the soul and has an influence upon the intelligence and has its growth from internal things.—Mrs. Elise Brann, Spiritualist, Minneapolis.

How to Love Your Neighbor.

If I love my neighbor simply because he loves me, or does not hate me, I do not really love him—I only love myself through him. If I love him, not for my sake, but for his sake, then is my love genuine.—Rev. J. S. David, Swedenborg Mission Society, San Francisco.

True Culture.

It is the aim of true culture to set before every man some ideal or another. The practical and the ideal must go hand in hand, acting upon one another, and by a constant correction and improvement leading the man on to perfection.—Rabbi Joseph Silverman, New York.

The Modern Young Man.

The modern young man is lacking in what I may call the initiative. He is tending toward mechanical performance and routine duty, and that quality that makes leadership, that quality that made the fathers of our republic strong, is lacking.—Bishop Henry C. Potter, Episcopal, New York.

Soft Modern Terms.

A life of godless pleasure and sensuality is called "living a gay life." Drunkenness is an "unfortunate habit." Blasphemy is an "ungentlemanly habit." Fraud and dishonest speculation and gambling, if successful, are "shrewd business methods."—Rev. Samuel J. Nicolls, Music Hall, St. Louis.

How Public Opinion Is Formed.

The most powerful law in America, the force that makes and unmakes, executes or nullifies laws, is public opinion. This you and I are constantly forming. This we shape and into this we infuse life. By our own conduct, by our own habits, we will do not a little to build up righteousness and to secure justice.—Rev. H. D. Jenkins, Presbyterian, Kansas City.

The Power of Life.

The rock is a dead thing, but the lichen that covers it, the eagle that builds its nest there and the man that blasts it for its gold, they grow while it remains the same forever. Great is the power of life. Fungi beneath a heavy paving stone will lift it. An invisible speck of protoplasm that no eye can see will hold up at last the majesty of the oak.—Rev. George Elliott, Methodist, Philadelphia.

Two Perpetual Rights.

Out of our constitutional and ever acting impulses and prospects of the future spring to every member of our race two perpetual rights—the right of knowing the right of imparting knowledge, the right to learn and the right to teach—and there is but one process by which these rights can be enforced, and that is the process of thinking. Whoever fails to think annuls his birthright and remains a beggared fool. And so whatever means can be used to promote thinking must be fostered.—Rev. Byron Sunderland, Presbyterian, Washington.

Benjamin Franklin.

There is no more remarkable character in American history than Benjamin Franklin. Some eminent men in Europe called him the "American Socrates," and others the "Solon of America." At one period in his diplomatic career it was said of him by President Adams that there was no other man in the world with as wide a reputation as Franklin. The French people showered honors upon him. They loved and revered him, and he was scarcely less esteemed in the highest political circles of England, although he was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and one of the foremost spirits in paving the way to American freedom.—Rev. Charles H. Eaton, Universalist, New York.

Big Display.

A TELEGRAM man was this morning shown the display of Christmas goods and novelties of the Tower Manufacturing Company, and E. I. Horsford, of New York. They are represented by Messrs. John H. and Geo. S. Lewis, who have their display on the second floor of the Fishplate-Katz-Rankin Company's store.

They have twenty-three large trunks, so it can be readily understood that they exhibit an immense line.

It would do the little folks good to get just a peep at this display, which shows several hundred dolls of different styles, besides a large quantity of toys.

The Messrs. Lewis will exhibit in Charlotte next week.

Tyler Nominated.

The Democratic convention of Virginia, in session at Roanoke, nominated J. Hoge Tyler for governor and Edward Echols, of Staunton, for lieutenant governor.

No Court Next Week.

There will be no court next week, as Judge McIver has to open court at Whiteville, Columbus county, Monday morning. An effort was made to get Judge Bryan to hold Columbus court, but he will be engaged at another place.

It is a great pity that the three weeks term cannot be completed. Judge McIver has been getting along nicely and would have gotten many cases off the docket by the end of the term.
